

Second Sixth day of Mirtal

I think it was wise that we stayed clear of the hermits cottage. And what is up with all those sheep??

Second Ninth day of Mirtal

I forgot how cold the mountains get even in the spring... I am glad Balmont alerted us to those Goblin's... cunning buggers these ones.

Third First day of Mirtal

Kelaim swore we found the Goblin's cave... too bad it was really the home of two creatures that stood over 8 feet tall and covered in long, white fur. Their feet and hands are wide and flat. They traveled on all fours like the apes, but fought standing erect. The smell in the cave was strong and musky we should have known it wasn't goblins. The eyes were icy blue. Their claws and flesh were ivory white. We lost Kilshandra... may she find peace with her god whom she served.

Third Fourth night of Mirtal

Mirlar is right; the peak is a castle... the only thing that builds a castle that big is giants. I have a bad feeling about this.

that... I'm the only one left... not sure if Balmont and will get out of this one...

Third Sixth night of Mirtal

We discovered almost immediately... damned frost giants keep the largest wolves I have ever seen as pets. Worse than that they have a pet White Dragon... we were not prepared for
